

UNITED CONSCIOUSNESS CONCLAVE 2027

15-16-17th January 2027 Ujjain (MP)
INDIA

Establishing Culture of Wellbeing, through United Consciousness

“One Earth, One Health, One Consciousness: Global Well-Being”

1. What is United Consciousness Conclave 2027?

United Consciousness Conclave 2027 (UCC 2027) is a three-day global gathering dedicated to building a Culture of Well-Being through consciousness, compassion, dialogue and collective responsibility. It brings together spiritual wisdom, contemporary knowledge, research, leadership, culture and lived inner experience on a common platform.

Guided by the vision “One Consciousness, One Being,” the Conclave seeks to move beyond divisions of discipline, profession, nationality and tradition. Voices from 30+ countries across six continents are envisioned to come together with participants from across India, including spiritual masters, scholars, scientists, academicians, public representatives, administrators, corporate leaders, social reformers, practitioners, youth and civil-society organisations.

THE CENTRAL IDEA

Well-being cannot be understood only as the absence of illness. It includes the health of the body and mind, emotional balance, meaningful relationships, ethical and compassionate communities, and a responsible relationship with the planet.

Background & Rationale

The 21st century is witnessing a profound well-being crisis. Beyond physical illness, the world faces rising mental distress, emotional fragility, social alienation, professional burnout, and environmental imbalance.

The WHO estimates that non-communicable diseases account for 74% of global deaths, mental disorders affect over 1 billion people, and climate change adds over 250,000 preventable deaths annually.

Economic growth has not translated into emotional peace or planetary harmony. The modern world needs a new paradigm — one that restores connection between body and mind, individual and society, humanity and nature.

In this context, United Consciousness Conclave 2027 aims to establish a Culture of Well-Being— a culture rooted in compassion, consciousness, and collective responsibility. Hosted in Ujjain, one of the world’s oldest centers of spiritual learning and home to the sacred Mahakaleshwar Jyotirlinga, the Conclave will bring together voices from 30+ countries representing six continents — public representatives, bureaucrats, spiritual masters, scientists, academicians, corporate leaders, social reformers, and NGOs.

6. Why Ujjain?

Ujjain provides a meaningful setting for a gathering that connects inner development with global well-being. The city has a long association with spiritual learning, philosophy and Indian knowledge traditions and is home to the sacred Mahakaleshwar Jyotirlinga. Holding the Conclave in Ujjain places a contemporary global dialogue within a civilisational setting that has reflected on consciousness, self-knowledge and the relationship between human life and the larger cosmos for centuries.

7. Why Are We Conducting This Conclave?

The rationale of UCC 2027 begins with a simple observation: progress in material and technological terms has not, by itself, resolved the deeper challenges of human well-being. Across societies, people are confronting physical illness, mental distress, emotional fragility, social alienation, professional burnout and environmental imbalance.

The Conclave therefore proposes a broader understanding of development—one in which economic advancement is accompanied by inner stability, healthy communities, ethical leadership and ecological responsibility. It seeks to restore connections that are often treated separately: body and mind, individual and society, knowledge and wisdom, humanity and nature.

The Conclave seeks to:

- Establish a global dialogue on well-being as a development priority that reaches beyond purely economic measures.
- Connect ancient Indian wisdom with modern science, psychology, education, leadership and governance.

- Create meaningful dialogue among spiritual leaders, researchers, educators, public institutions, businesses, youth and civil society.
- Encourage the integration of well-being into education, workplaces, communities and public systems.
- Develop a shared language of compassion, consciousness and collective responsibility.
- Advance the idea that personal well-being, social well-being and planetary well-being are deeply interconnected.
- Contribute toward a Global Well-Being Declaration 2027 with actionable directions for institutions and communities.
- Strengthen Ujjain and Madhya Pradesh as important centres for dialogue on holistic well-being, consciousness and knowledge traditions.

From personal transformation to collective well-being.

8. What Will the Conclave Include?

UCC 2027 is designed not merely as a conference of speeches, but as a multidimensional experience of listening, reflection, dialogue, practice, research, creativity and connection.

Spiritual Discourses	Reflections and teachings that explore consciousness, inner growth, values, peace and the deeper dimensions of human life.
Yogic Workshops	Experiential sessions that bring authentic yogic knowledge into practical approaches to physical, mental and inner well-being.
Meditation Practices	Guided opportunities to experience silence, awareness, inner balance and contemplative practice.
Global Panel Dialogues	Cross-disciplinary conversations among voices from different nations and fields on well-being, society, education, leadership and the future.
Youth & Leadership Forum	A platform for young people to engage with questions of purpose, responsibility, leadership, service and the world they wish to create.

ANCIENT WISDOM • CONTEMPORARY THOUGHT • GLOBAL DIALOGUE • INNER EXPERIENCE

9. Who Comes Together?

The Conclave is conceived as an inclusive meeting ground for people and disciplines that do not always share the same stage. It brings together spiritual masters and practitioners, scientists and researchers, academicians and educators, public representatives and administrators, corporate and institutional leaders, social reformers and NGOs, artists, youth leaders, students and seekers.

A DIALOGUE BEYOND SILOS

The purpose is not to make every voice identical, but to create a space where diverse perspectives can meet around a common concern: how human beings, communities and the planet can flourish together.

10. Why Should One Attend UCC 2027?

There are events that provide information, and there are experiences that create space for reflection. UCC 2027 is intended to do both. It offers participants an opportunity to step outside the pace of everyday life and encounter ideas, practices and people that may open new ways of seeing well-being and one's place in the world.

Pause and reconnect — Create intentional space to turn inward, reflect and reconnect with what is meaningful.

Experience, not only listen — Participate in meditation, yogic practices and experiential sessions alongside talks and discussions.

Learn across disciplines — Encounter ancient wisdom together with contemporary research, psychology, education, leadership and public thought.

Meet a global community — Engage with participants and voices from India and around the world in a setting centred on shared human well-being.

Strengthen inner resources — Explore approaches related to mental resilience, emotional intelligence, self-awareness and spiritual growth.

Join meaningful dialogue — Listen to and participate in conversations on the future of individuals, institutions, communities and the planet.

Discover Ujjain in a new way — Experience a global gathering in one of India's historic centres of spiritual and cultural learning.

Carry the experience forward — Take home ideas, practices, relationships and questions that can continue beyond the three days.

Don't just attend it. Live it. Feel it. Experience it.

11. The Inner Experience

At the heart of the Conclave is an invitation to experience well-being personally, not merely discuss it intellectually. Through silence, contemplation, dialogue, movement, learning and human connection, participants are invited to encounter dimensions of themselves that the speed of ordinary life may leave little room to notice.

The aspiration is simple yet profound: to create conditions in which one may experience silence without emptiness, joy that does not depend entirely on circumstance, connection that reaches beyond boundaries, and peace that does not require withdrawal from life.

12. From an Event to a Movement

United Consciousness Conclave 2027 is envisioned as more than a three-day programme. Its larger purpose is to strengthen a movement toward a Culture of Well-Being—a culture in which well-being becomes part of how we educate, lead, work, relate, govern and care for the Earth.

The Conclave seeks to connect personal transformation with social responsibility. Inner peace becomes meaningful when it influences how we treat others; knowledge becomes meaningful when it serves life; and collective progress becomes meaningful when it includes both people and planet.

The experience we hope participants carry forward

- A deeper understanding of holistic well-being.
- Practical exposure to meditation, yoga and reflective practices.
- Fresh perspectives from global and interdisciplinary dialogue.
- A stronger sense of shared humanity and collective responsibility.
- Meaningful connections with people committed to well-being and positive change.
- Inspiration to translate insight into action within families, institutions, communities and society.
